Design and Implementation of a Novel Web Based E-Learning Authering Tool

Dr . S . Palaniswamy

Abstract - Literature reported that SCORM stands for Shareable Content Object Reference Model . This is standard for web based E - learning .The standard uses XML . The objective is to design a SCORM 1.2 complaint based E - learning authoring tool . Users create and manage content in the form of learning objects from already existing complete lesson for on - line teaching and instruction , using multiple learning objects from different sources. The main advantage of the generator is to enable web base learning system to find, important, share , reuse, and export learning content in a standardized way . Sharable Content Objects (SCOs) are individual, electronic units of learning that may be combined to create a course of study . This generator works perfectly for web based learning and there by servers as the best internet technology .
